Underneath the stars. When I saw your face. Like the sun it disappears each day.
Nothing in the world could ever. Help me through each night. On my own I'll dream my life away.

And you do something beautiful. Touches me inside. Takes me up to paradise. And there's no place. I can hide. You did something beautiful and I love you till I die.

Brighter than the sun. Higher than the clouds. My imagination's running wild Could this be an exploration. Or my change of view. Does a love grow stronger everyday

Then you do something beautiful. Touches me inside. Takes me up to paradise. And there's no place I can hide. You did something beautiful and I'll love you till you die.
