

Black The Colour Of My Heart

Monarchy

The heart it is a beast
We're not written equally
Where can we lay this blame
Between the clouds and flames

Raise my hand up to the sun
Dazed in (mortuary?)
Crimson drops upon the ground
Confusion all around
Diffusion all around

I know she loves me
Why do I always pull it all apart
I know she gets me
Yeah, she's always got my back

I know she adores me
She's everything I want
But black has always been
The colour of my heart
The colour of my heart

Under a silent moon
The beat's a sea without a shore
Hear the floorboards creek
While the angels gently weep

The dreamers of the sun
Will they judge me now
The great eternity
Is all but mystery
All but mystery

I know she loves me
Why do I always pull it all apart
I know she gets me
Yeah, she's always got my back

I know she adores me
She's everything I want
But black has always been
The colour of my heart
The colour of my heart.
