

We Were Young

Monarchy

We were young, we were young in a daze
Standing tall was a vision of grace
Cold beauty sang like a flame
In the shadows the doubt abstained

Now the age has burnt up all the hope we placed
And the wilt is growing melancholy faces

Look at stars see the cradle we came from
Right from the start let electric in again again
We've got the taste floating on the string
We live in the shadow of a promise past

We were young, we were young when we struck
It began with the opus above
Cold beauty just wouldn't wake up
In the shadows let go our beloved

Now the age has burnt up all the hope we placed
And the wilt is growing melancholy faces

Look at stars see the cradle we came from
Right from the start let electric in again again
We've got the taste floating on the string
We live in the shadow of a promise past

Save up all the glitter from the ground
Giants hold us the future can be found

Look at stars see the cradle we came from
Right from the start let electric in again again
We've got the taste floating on the string
We live in the shadow of a promise past