

It Ain't Gonna Work

Moneybrother

No question about it, I for sure, will die alone There'll be no other, can't see nobody come along
It ain't gonna work

When asked to see me, you said:
-Baby it can't get worse and added:
-Darling, I'll be leaving if it hurts
It ain't gonna work

Oh, let's tell it like it is No way we're getting through this though I wake up every morning trying to do right Still you drifting further away from me each night

Though I try
it ain't gonna work

How I clung to that feeling how It might be different it could be fine

And painfully this morning,
It just struck me, I must've been blind

Oh it's happening my love What we both have been afraid of

Though I wake up every morning trying to do right
Still you drifting further away from me each night
Though I try
it ain't gonna work

wooh

Though I wake up every morning trying to do right
Still you drifting further away from me each night

But though I wake up every morning trying to do right
Still you drifting further away from me each night
Though I try
it ain't gonna work
it ain't gonna work
ain't gonna work
it ain't gonna work
