

Trail of thorns

Mono Inc.

When heaven cries and days are grey and it's hard to breathe
When blossom's red is fading black and summer leaves
When songs of hope are whining low and moods go with the flow
It's not the end it's just a stage
It's not too late
Here's your verve
you'll get what you deserve

Come light the dark around us
Come be our beacon shining bright
Come light the dark around us
Believe me somewhere down the line
Will come the day a star will rise and you'll be out of reach
When life's a trail of thorns walk on and don't you lose belief
Don't you lose belief

You know the rain you know the shade and promises
In being left and being lone you're a specialist
When songs of hope are whining low
It's time for you to know
This is the start of something great
It's not too late
No more hurt
So catch what you deserve

Come light the dark around us
Come be our beacon shining bright
Come light the dark around us
Believe me somewhere down the line
Will come the day a star will rise and you'll be out of reach
When life's a trail of thorns walk on and don't you lose belief
Don't you lose belief
On this trail of thorns
Never lose belief
