Monster Magnet

Yeah yea

We've got a map of the world torn up And your future's five bucks a pound And I've seen your Mum with her knees pinned back You'll pay everything to hear that sound

We drove a truck to the ranch of life And came back with another brain So shake your ass at the scene tonight And open wide and let it drain

You'd better come down Now I think you should Oh yeah, yeah, yeah

We've got a map of the world torn up And your future's five bucks a pound I've seen your Mum with her knees pinned back You'll pay everything to hear that sound, baby

We drove a truck to the ranch of life And came back with another brain So shake your ass at the scene tonight And open wide and let it drain

You'd better come down Now I think you should Oh yeah, yeah, yeah You'd better come down Now I think you should
