

Castle Bound

Monty Are I

Running through, I'm running through these lands spread far apart

Is it love? Is it love, when heroes risk it all?

But is it true, is it really true?

There's a doubt set in her heart?

This love, this burning love could make this hero fall

And it's not enough, is it not enough (possibly), when your dying for your love (beautifully?)

And hoping is a crutch (Wait and we'll see)

But until then, I will not give up I'll make it through tonight
Will you stay strong?

Stay with me through the fight?

If the will's strong

You cannot lose sight of what we wanted to be

But if you do just know that you've got me

She's castle bound restricted from the sounds that assure her I'm OK

To preserve means I'm getting near

A kiss means I've survived

An angel will tell you, my princess, "triumphs lie in faith"

[chorus]

And it's not enough, is it not enough (possibly), when your dying for your love (beautifully?)

And hoping is a crutch (Wait and we'll see)

But until then..
