

Convoy of Angels

Monty Are I

Send me a convoy of angels
Send me a convoy of angels
Send me a convoy of angels

Told by a man in all white of cancers that breed in the night
A word that I've heard, that seems so absurd
Praying with all that I've got
But never believed much in god
I contemplate life, with a flash in my eyes
It crushes my mother, but I swear that I'll fight
I'll fight

Someone send me a convoy of angels
Send me a convoy of angels
And give me a sign that god is alive
And cure my infection with the will to survive

Resorting to take their advice
Unconscious and under the knife
Two weeks and I'll know hell in the unknown
When they diagnose me, I know I'm not alone
Not alone

Someone send me a convoy of angels
Send me a convoy of angels
And give me a sign that god is alive
And cure my infection with the will to survive
With the will to survive

My fears show in my dreams
A blind man came to me with visions
"I will test you against your mind rise or lose sight"

And I will fight

Someone send me a convoy of angels
Send me a convoy of angels
And give me a sign that God is alive
Cure my infection with the will to survive
Send me a convoy of angels
Send me a convoy of angels
And give me a sign that I'll be alive
Cure my infection with the will to survive
