

...of Dream and Drama (Midnight Ride)

Moonspell

You've no mother to feed you or to lick your so deep wounds nor Earth where to lay your timid crown You've suffered by your father and even the Moon lies to you When she shines...

The seduction of an altar
Is a weakness in her movements of Death
It is a mere vanity of Woman to delay her midnight ride Suicide... Midnight ride...

Beautiful dagger you may now leave your case
Wild red tears at the lady's hand
Kissed were her breasts with your sharpened face Given is now what Love had taken death and Love, they together danced

Yes, the flames did smile to her Invited her to their fiery peace
To a funebre dance around a bonfire
Where all Women are naked and alone
Immolating their pride
May they forever ride. Far, in a midnight crime.
Midnight Ride, Suicide, Midnight Ride...
