

The Last of Us

Moonspell

Let me guide you to where it's silent across the limits of survivors guilt the crowds are waiting the side was taking by the burning sun we're moving on straight light into depths unknown my curse is to love you until we see the last of us my chance of surrender
nothing burn eternity
no chance of surrender
before we fight our destiny let me touch where is for bitten and test the limit of your sanctity the crowds where expanded perhaps naked for the last of gods the fire burns if there's no tomorrow... no tomorrow you know my heart will fail you know my back will break and again and again it will for you just to review my pain

black magic unconditional love
black magic unconditional black magic unconditional lust black magic irresistible
