Eyes to See, Ears to Hear

Morbid Angel

Darkness - swallowing all in its path The blind leading the blind and the "flock" is ever confused Who has the gift of healthy sight and mind Who can withstand while the others are blown away?

Eyes to see...what the others see not Ears to hear...the voice of the elders guides Eyes to see...and the blind; they wither away You fools! These eyes are never for you

Darkness - corrupting all in its path Greed leading the man to blindness, suffering And ever foretold...the meek shall have this earth Alas without sight they will only be left with demise

Worlds apart are they and I My world remains in sight Their lives - despair The "I's" and "They's" cannot compare
