

Opening of the Gates

Morbid Angel

These chains that have choked existence, have fallen away this veil that has blinded eyes has been lifted and now it is gone and like the ways of the sheep the flock has been to only receive led to the gates of their enemy led to the slaughter of their beliefs and now their gazing eyes have turned turned to see us laughing these fools who have thought us to be as they are,
have never truly seen guided by limiting the ways that they think, they thought us blind and obscene but now the sheep are wailing cries to a god they never see and as the gates are closing down upon the all they have believed and now their pleading eyes have turned turned to see the eyes of the laughing the ties have bound these fools to the ways of the blind, is ignorant bliss lies that were fed to the slumbering mass they've grazed upon it and all that awaits men failing to see, is the sight they've despised the gates have opened, your religion has died