

Easier Said Than Done

Morcheeba

You know you have to let go
But you're hanging on to give you time to grow
God drops from such a great height
But you're hanging on, you're still hung up inside

You gotta readjust
You must believe that you're the one
You gotta learn to trust
So tough, it's easier said than done
But is it worth the risk
Or this, has got you highly strung
It's easier said than done

Face up, you're gonna let go
Sick of hanging on and who cares what's below
Look down, it's just a sure fall
Landing on your feet because you've grown so tall

You gotta readjust
You must believe that you're the one
You gotta learn to trust
So tough, it's easier said than done
But is it worth the risk
Or this, has got you highly strung
It's easier said than done

You gotta readjust
You must believe that you're the one
You gotta learn to trust
So tough, it's easier said than done
But is it worth the risk
Or this, has got you highly strung
It's easier said than done
