Fragments Of Freedom

(ouh, maybe you're right)

When the party's over You got no way to go

(ouh, maybe you're right)

When the party's over You got no way to go

When the party's over You got no way to go

When the party's over You got no way to go

When the party's over You got no way to go

When the party's over You got no way to go

When the party's over You got no way to go

When the party's over You got no way to go

When the party's over You got no way to go

When the party's over You got no way to go

When the party's over You got no way to go

When the party's over You got no way to go
