

Faceless Name

More Than Life

Nothing but a name on a grave is what we all we be as death is only a step away, turning cold with yesterday Blister blue, with frozen knuckles still reaching out for an an swer
but I tell myself I'm nothing (everyday) I'll never change a th ing
Is this just growing up? I'm so confused.
Lost without hope, no direction no excuse I'll never gain ground with one foot in my grave live for today
hope for tomorrow (they say) Save myself from broken dreams, Save myself from sleepless screams
This is reality, this is my legacy, my heart has already died,
I'm nothing but a faceless name.
A fucking faceless name
