

The Sun

Morphia

Wipe the void from my eyes
The darkness passed away
Where ever I look I see...
You
The light of another day

I let your warmth embrace me
It forms an auriole of light
In which evil cannot trace me
Returning to the dead of night

You the one
My life has just begun
In my dreams
I was told you'd come
The sun

But sometimes darkness turns back
An eclipse that blocks my sight
It makes my past surround me
It puts me back into the night

I'm held back
I am trying to
Free myself
I yearn for you

You... The light
You... The loved one
You... The circle
You... The Sun
