

Patience

Morphine

I spent all day yesterday watching the grass grow
What I learned is that grass really grows slow
Now Im hanging around trying to get inspired Punch a hole in my cage and I reach out blind

She said have patience
Everything will be all right
have patience
Give it just a little time
Everything will be all right

I spent all day yesterday sitting at a red light
Cause she told me to give it just a little more time
And I lost my car in a parking lot
Bought a newspaper and I decided to walk

She said have patience
Everything will be all right
have patience
Give it just a little time
Everything will be all right

I spent all day yesterday listening to the doorbell ring
Must have been a Sunday, I could hear the choir sing
And down in the graveyard theyre listening to the underground
They`re the only ones ever learn to calm down

Patience
Everything will be all right
have patience
Give it just a little time
Everything will be all right
Everything will be all right
Everything will be all
Everything will be all right
