It Is Done

Mors Principium Est

Can you feel what is happening The turmoil is building I will make you my offering As the first sacrifice

The scum of the earth starts to fade The mankind is too late We have won, you are gone And now you will pay the price