Into the Fire

Mortal Sin

Calling all gods from heaven and hell
 Return to the chapel and ring the bell
 Punish all the sinners, cleanse their souls
 Drive the evil spirits back into their holes

Into the fire, the bodies burn
 Into the fire, there's no return
 Feel the heat, the temperatures rise
 Feel the heat, it's in your eyes

Raised from the dead, your body's alive
 Escaped from the torture, you have survived
 Your face is scarred to skin and bone
 Scream for mercy with a howling moan

Calling all sinners who paid the price
 Return to the chapel your sacrifice
 You fought the black spirits, you thought you'd won
 The battle of evil has just begun
