

Do You Remember Me?

Morten Harket

Do you remember me?
I am a different breed.
I came to set you free;
You got the best of me...

I am the pain you feel;
You almost made me real.
I brought you to your knees...
Do you remember me?

I walked a thousand miles
and here I am

Show me a world that I can understand.
Like a common man,
You are the one that can sift me from the sand...

Who do you think you are?
You tell me life is hard
I came in from afar
My life was in the star

I walked a thousand miles

and here I am
Show me a world that I can understand.
Like a common man,
You are the one that can sift me from the sand...
and here I am

Show me a world that I can understand.
Like a common man,
You are the void in my heart and in my hands...

I am the air you breathe;
I am your symphony.
I'm all you let me be...
What do you want from me?

Reaching out for your hand...
and here I am
Show me a world that I can understand.
I'm just a man;
Show me the key that you hold in your hand...
