

Girl

Morten Harket

Girl, won't you knock on my door
Girl, won't you knock on my door
You know that I want you and you want me too so what are you waiting for

Alright, I know it's late but it's never too late for faith the sun is to rise in this town in your eyes if it's late, it's too late to wait

I want your body,
and you want mine
so what's the problem it's hard to define when I want your body
and you want mine

Alright, there's a lot of people out there
I know them, don't you fear you know they're kind of involved you know theres things and so but no one's gonna care

I want your body...

It's not that I wanna marry or something like that you know it's just that I'm the arrow baby you're the bow just that I sometimes feel sorry and sometimes horny like now, yeah yeah yeah

Girl, won't you knock on my door
Girl, won't you knock on my door if you really won't if you really really don't baby I come knocking on yours

I want your body...
