My woman so lonely
My woman so fine
My flower, don't worry
You will shine

A marriage, the secret
The shadows behind
Pianos are playing
Summertime

But as long as your hero's in the movies
And the turtle is safe in the Caribbean sea
While the power of nations set the rules
Still I've got no one lying next to me

Red carpets, no windows
She longs to escape
Her secret against Fairytale

But as long as your hero's in the movies
And the turtle is safe in the Caribbean sea
While the power of nations set the rules
Still there is no one lying next to me

And the turtle is safe in the Caribbean sea
While the power of nations make the rules
Still there is none lying next to me
I have got none lying next to me

Still there is no one lying next to me.
