Monolith

Mortiis

Go away from me.
I just want to flee.
The god i used to be.
Fill me no more with glee.

Where am I now?
Upon whom to bestow,
The Secrets locked inside.
The universe I hide.

The Monolith is I.

It was always me.

This world has always been,

The place I really lived in.

Here i stand, alone.

My soul has turned to stone.

Half my kingdom to,

Him that helps me through.
