

Black Witch

Morton

The shadows suddenly grew long
And howling filled their homes
Dead silence came upon the ancient grove
The evil's here like years ago
It's back, it hasn't changed
The Satan's daughter came to get revenge

The ill fame flew and like the plague
It came to every district
It told of hag with evil ruthless spirit
Her human flesh was burned to dust
And clerics struck the bells
But Devil threw her back from burning hell

The victim of the holy fire
She walks the land, her smile is dire
The ashes on her crooked lips
And hellish grip
Once dead, she came again to rise
No one can execute her twice
She can't be drowned, she can't be burned
She can't be stopped in her return

The steel and stone obey the power of unholy runes
She spoils the water and conceals the moon
Collecting lives and freezing heat
With the forbidden chants
She already began her vengeful hunt

Her retinues of undead souls
Are throwing out their cry
The rotten madness in the empty eyes
The time is nigh, Your Eminence
God save you from her rage
The Satan's daughter came to get revenge