

Young Love

Moto boy

Young hearts light their own funeral piles
A wild fire the hearts always keen to endure
And I know the yearning will always remain
And I know I'll always be asking for more

And it wont let me go

Young love burning a hole in my heart
Young love burning a hole in my heart
Find me and take me where my love belong
Burn me I want it cause my love is young

They asked me what do you think you will find
And I replied "I don't know but it's something divine"
I always wanted a bittersweet heart
It seems it was already there from the start

And it wont let me go

Young love burning a hole in my heart
Young love burning a hole in my heart
Find me and take me where my love belong
Burn me I want it cause my love is young

Hold me and hurt me
Love and avert me
