

Burning

Motorjesus

Night is reflecting all that i've done
Here i am breathing far from the sun
Values, foundations, look what becomes
Long awaited second finally comes

It still feels like I'm burning low
It still feels that I'm burning slow

In disillusion, I refuse to see
The final hours come over me

It still feels like I'm burning low
It still feels that I'm burning slow

Forever broken down again
Feel free from all this pain

A broken mirror, destruction's at hand
The taste of a fear comes to an end
Extinction of humans, extinction of time
Shadows had lifted, perception is mine

Still feel I'm burning low
It still feels like I'm burning slow

Forever broken down again
In suffering and Pain

I never wanted
I never wanted to say
It takes a million miles to walk away

Still feel I'm broken down again
Feel free from all this pain
Forever broken down again

Down again
