

Walkin' With J.

Motorpsycho

When the saints come down -trembling on my backwhen they synchronize my heads forevermore be a leader of the pack when they show me heavens door

We never know exactly where to go, but it never should have gone this far

With Jesus
and they say what he says and the jerk and the smart-ass show off their passes
and want us all to come along

Someone died for you don't you think it's true there's a pot and there's a stew would we lie to you - fill your head with lies?
It's all written in this book

We never know exactly where to go,
but it never should have gone this far

What's the book you read compared to what he said?
still you substitute your head and we all go 'round searching-lost and found-make us all just tag along
