

Always Only For Me

Moving Mountains

I knew someone this time
She was dying as I bit my tongue
I knew little from my youth
But I knew too soon to save her

Well it's like they all say
So take my breathe, I'll die today
And I can't repent. And I can't regret
(And there's something I felt and it won't escape me
And there's something I knew, and it won't escape me)

Well I'm running through my dreams
Wishing you could see how fast it takes me to fall in open valleys
My son you're all choked up
Just open your heart and make believe
The sun could make and cast the biggest shadows over me
Over the places I hold in my thoughts
In my thoughts is where you'll be