

Death Over Danger

Mozart Season

Time and time I watch the leaves fall
They beat me to the ground
The stench of daises on your front porch give meaning
To all that we haven't found

Cause tonight won't make a difference
And why should I show interest
When all that's left on my bed is your sweat throughout the night

You leave no room for doubt
What path do I choose now?
Stairway to nowhere's in front of me

Just like you I choose death over danger
My lips have no use, once I forget your name

This is our only separation from desperation
Your still a hundred sweet whispers away
If five whole says is all it takes to Dance the night away

Cause tonight wont make a difference
And why should I show interest
When all that's left on my bed is your sweat throughout the night

You leave no room for doubt
What path do I choose now?
Stairway to nowhere's in front of me

Just like you I choose death over danger
My lips have no use, once I forget your name

Wipe the X's of your palms sweet lady
Cause
They don't mean a thing now
They don't mean a thing now
They don't mean a thing now
They don't mean a thing now