

Four Leaf Clover

Mozella

I would spend my days in isolation
In a cafe talking to myself
Love was never in the conversation
I couldn't get it right, but that was life

Always just a friend, never a lover
I'm the one they call for good advice
Always seemed it was something or other
But my love reappeared, and now its all so clear

For once in my life I'm gonna get it right
I want long stemmed roses and a kiss goodnight
I'm gonna know how it feels when the stars align
You'll be my four leaf clover, and we'll start over

For once in my life I'm gonna make a change
I'm gonna deal with myself, I'm gonna rearrange
One step at a time, we'll take it day by day
You'll be my four leaf clover, and we'll start over

Love has now come into the equation
Things are looking brighter than before
I finally caught the right train at the station
Should I take that ride?
I think I'll give it a try

For once in my life I'm gonna get it right
I want long stemmed roses and a kiss goodnight
I'm gonna know how it feels when the stars align
You'll be my four leaf clover, and we'll start over

For once in my life I'm gonna make a change
I'm gonna deal with myself, I'm gonna rearrange
One step at a time, we'll take it day by day
You'll be my four leaf clover, and we'll start over

This is something heavy
But I think I'm ready
My luck has come around
It turned me inside out
I'll test the water, fan the flame
I'll walk the plain, I'll play the game
Yea, I'll play the game