

We Belong to No One

Mr. Mister

They say we're born alone
And then we leave the same way
Can anything be colder?
And while we both are here
We can put the fear away
I only want to hold you

We belong to no one
But I can see a mirror in your face
We belong to no one
Still we fill an empty space
We belong to no one
We both share one solitary place

And when the light is on
It can fill a hundred rooms
A thousand empty shadows
And over us it shines
Like a star above the gloom
We answer with our echoes

We belong to no one
But I can see a mirror in your face
We belong to no one
Still we fill an empty space
We belong to no one
We both share one solitary place
We belong to no one
No one, no one

And when the light is on
It can fill a hundred rooms
A thousand empty shadows

We belong to no one
But I can see a mirror in your face
We belong to no one
Still we fill an empty space
We belong to no one
We both share one solitary place
We belong to no one
No one, no one, no

We belong to no one
I see a mirror in your face
We belong to no one
We fill an empty space
We belong to no one
We both share one solitary place
We belong to no one
No one, no one
