

By Her Own Hand

Mudhoney

She cut her face in the mirror last night
Trying to get through to another side

She says she doesn't understand men's pride
She says she can not stand her life

She's looking for any way out
I can't stand what she's thinking about

I want to tell her everything will be all right
But I love her too much, too much to lie

She's looking for any way out
I can't stand what she's thinking about
She's looking for any way out
I can't stand what she's thinking about
