

12:97:24:99

Mudvayne

The sublime destroys the boundaries of finiteness
Yet this phenomenon is seen by the self
Not as an act of destruction, but rather
As a kind of elevation and liberation

For it is in the feeling of infinitude
Which it now discovers within itself
That it may enjoy a new experience
Within its own boundlessness