Burn the Bridge

Mudvayne

No integrity no sincerity no credibility no regret no principal no ethic no honor makes no fucking sense no inside to the futu re no thinking and no respect no authority no veracity no hones ty no penitence no pride no power just a criminal no morals

Your greed you'd burn the bridge around me to save your self Your Envy, You can't be what I am even with my help Gluttony, Take everything from me take it for yourself My Wrath, I'll just live my own life

So Violent So Dissident No More Requiem so I lament So Simple to Revere to respect down and left for dead So forget my forgiveness you've all failed to protect No Persistence, Insistence my will my stubbornness Consume Devore Like a Criminal, no standards

Your greed, You'd burn the bridge around me to save your self Your Envy, You can't be what I am even with my help Gluttony, Take everything from me take it for yourself My Wrath, I'll just live my own life

Before I saw the light I crawled through darkness my whole life So empty
Before I found my life I embraced the death that's coming

So Certain, Drawing Near, Its coming closer it's approaching

I know the signs
I've got the number
I got my vision
I know the motion
My eyes forever opened

You'd burn the bridge around me to save your self Your Envy, You can't be what I am even with my help Gluttony, Take everything from me take it for yourself My Wrath, I'll just live my own life
