

Nothing Else!

Mura Masa

I used to live in magazines
Yeah, they had me dreaming of another world
Thought that all those shiny things
Might give a little meaning to my lonely world

Ooh, distractions
Needless to say, I was caught up with them everyday
But you can take my shit, burn my clothes
I know this is it

Your love's more precious than gold
Your love's more precious than gold, gold
Your love's more precious, your love's more precious than gold
'Cause nothing else matters
Yeah, nothing else matters now I have you
Nothing else matters
Yeah, nothing else matters now I have you

I miss so many unrepeatable things
Living in my material world
Convinced myself time and time again that I could win
Without giving anything of myself

Ooh, distractions
Needless to say, I was caught up with them everyday
But you can take my shit, burn my clothes
I know this is it

Your love's more precious than gold
Your love's more precious than gold, gold
Gold, your love's more precious than gold, gold
Nothing else matters
Yeah, nothing else matters now I have you
Nothing else matters
Yeah, nothing else matters now I have you

I was caught up in the bling bling bling
But diamond candy, it don't mean a thing, no
'Cause nothing else matters
Yeah, nothing else matters now I have you

Could live it up in a mansion
Sleeping in a single bed
They used to get my attention
But now I choose you instead, instead
