

Aftermath

Muse

War is all around
I'm growing tired of fighting
I've been drained and
I can't hide it
But I have strength for you
You're all that's real anymore
I am coming home now
I need your comfort

From this moment
From this moment
You will never be alone
We're bound together
Now and forever
The loneliness has gone

States are crumbling
Walls are rising high again
It's no place for the faint-hearted
But my heart is strong
Because now I know where I belong
It's you and I against the world
We are free

From this moment
From this moment
You will never be alone
We're bound together
Now and forever
The loneliness has gone

We've gone against the tide
All we have is each other now
I'm coming home now
I need your comfort

From this moment
From this moment
You will never be alone
We're bound together
Now and forever
The loneliness has gone

From this moment
From this moment
You will never be alone
We're bound together
Now and forever
Loneliness has gone

From this moment
From this moment
You will never be alone
We're bound together
Now and forever
The loneliness has gone
We're bound together

Now and forever
Loneliness has gone
