

I Lied

Mustasch

I said hello where are you from
And what is wrong, what's wrong
Is it what we have become, and what we've done
And what we didn't do to get things undone
The truth will sacrifice
While we tried, while we tried to work it all out
Now I need a place to hide
I Lied, I Lied to you baby, that's right

I refuse to break down
I won't cry, I won't cry
How come I never fall in love
I wonder why, I really wonder why
The plan I had for my life
It seemed so right
I thought I had it all figured out
Now I need a place to hide
Cause I Lied, I Lied to myself, that's right

Here in my hideout in the shades
I go insane, it feels like I'm going insane
I call upon winds, I call upon rain
Cause I hate, I hate to lose
Though I feel it's pretty cool
I know that time, time heal all wounds
I pretend that everything's alright
I Lied, I Lied to you all
