Typical

Mutemath

Come on, can I dream for one day? There's nothing that can't be done But how long should it take somebody Before they can be someone

Cuz I know there's got to be another level Somewhere closer to the other side And I'm feelin' like it's now or never Can I break the spell of the typical?

Now I've lived through my share of misfortune And I've worked in the blazing sun But how long should it take somebody Before they can be someone

Cuz I know there's got to be another level Somewhere closer to the other side And I'm feelin' like it's now or never Can I break the spell of the typical?

I'm the typical I'm the typical Can I break the spell of the typical?

Because it's draggin' me down Oh, I'd like to know about when When does it all turn around?

Yeah I know there's got to be another level Somewhere closer to the other side And I'm feelin' like it's now or never Can I break the spell of the typical?

Break the spell (of the typical) Break the spell (of the typical) Can I break the spell of the typical?
