This is Not (Real Love)

Mutya Buena

Don't kiss me, darling I want you to hear the things I say I loved you in my way But you know I'm gonna leave you The clock was always ticking And your heart, Yes I know your heart is always on the run I hate what I've become But I'm still gonna leave you And I don't think you should stay for the night Baby you know that my flesh is weak You know I simply I cannot sleep without you My heart has simply nowhere to go Nothing to hold Those tears you're crying Time and time again you take me back in baby You don't have to make it plain This is not real love Look at us dancing baby Let's dance and show them all (Dance and show them all) How close we are The lies have worked so far So we go on deceiving But darling don't you know the time Baby, look at yourself, holding back the tide Like you've got something else up your sleeve That's why I've got to leave And I don't think you should stay here tonight (Baby don't you know that my flesh is weak, you know) I simply I cannot sleep without you But someday I'll have nothing to show (Nothing to show) (Nothing to show) I've nothing to hold Oh, baby, crying All those simple things that won't come again Oh do I have to make it plain This is not real love And I said this is not real love Real love Baby it don't glisten and shine the way it used to

This is not real love (real love)
Baby think of all the promises I made on the day that I seduced you
Baby don't wait for me like some angel of tragedy
I have to set you free
Darling you should be long gone, oh long gone by now
You should be with someone, someone

Glisten and shine You promised me

You've gotta face it woman, you ain't ever gonna change me

Where will I go, what do I know
About life without you
You promised me you'd never leave me, no
This is not real love