Contention

This is a fight, broken bottles, bloody walls There was a time when a fist could solve it But those days are gone along with many murdered lives

Hey, contention Hey, it's killing us

This is a war, complete with a body count This ain't the past, this ain't the future, this is now When will we stand up and refuse to be put down?

Hey, contention Hey, it's killing us