

Think Twice

MxPx

Tears me apart inside I know I do it too

You can run but you can't hide
Deep down I find you
So it seems it's no big deal
We don't think about it much

A pain created, a pain that's real
I've got the scars to prove it
When we tear each other down what's our intentions
It's always more than just a joke, so let's try

To think twice, think twice
Think twice, think twice

It tears me apart inside I know I do it too

You can run but you can't hide
Deep down I find you
So it seems it's no big deal
We don't think about it much

A pain created, a pain that's real
I've got the scars to prove it
It's true we are a brotherhood, we all know it
Bonded by the Son of God is how we live

So think twice, think twice
Think twice, think twice

So think twice, so think twice
So think twice, so think twice
So think twice
