Old September Blues

My Morning Jacket

All alone at the end of the day Really tired, it's time to hit the hay It was always good to hear you say You never were a drawback You always were an asset You never were a drawback, no you weren't All alone at the end of the day Really tired, it's time to hit the hay It was always good to hear you say You never were a drawback Yeah, you always were an asset You never were a drawback, no you weren't Put away your corset Put away your shoe Put away the old September blues
