American Psycho

This is not an exit, this is not an exit I need to feel something, American Psycho My confession means nothing

Abandon all hope ye who enter here Pre-meditated calculated I can smell the fear Don't try to tell the truth just black and blue your eyes Graphic scenes of beauty I've become what I despise

Leaned into the light now I'm crucified Flesh, blood, teeth, not lies Later that night is how the story goes Rent, rewind, return my videos

This is not an exit, this is not an exit I need to feel something, American Psycho My confession means nothing American Psycho Nothing American Psycho

This is no attempt to preempt my own death I won't kill myself and I'm not taking requests The machine has left me scarred, scared of its insanity I've burned too many bridges to pretend to be holy

Honesty is ugly so we don't have a deal Flesh, blood, tongue, I'm real Later that night is how the story goes Rent, rewind, return my videos

This is not an exit, this is not an exit I need to feel something, American Psycho My confession means nothing American Psycho Nothing American Psycho

No matter how profane, sacred or insane Painfully preoccupied it's always still the same The killer is inside me, don't try to take my life I've buried all my hatchets but I've sharpened my knives What? Fuck

This is not an exit, this is not an exit I need to feel something, American Psycho My confession means nothing American Psycho Nothing American Psycho, this is not an exit
