The Opportunity To Be

My Ticket Home

You've chosen your path But when you look back Your empty trail won't be there to guide you Just open your eyes And see what you've left behind All that's left inside you

Turn around, there's nothing left to see There's nothing left for you and me Go on your shallow ways Turn around, there's nothing left to see There's nothing left for you or me You chose this so go

You chose this so go You chose this so go

You can't hold back the lies There's no sign of slowing down Your lies they can't hold water You're flooding this town I can't hold back my eyes Watching you lay on the ground I can't believe the lies That flooded this whole town

Turn around, there's nothing left to see There's nothing left for you and me Go on your shallow ways Turn around, there's nothing left to see There's nothing left for you or me You chose this so go

Turn around, there's nothing left to see There's nothing left for you and me Go on your shallow ways Turn around, there's nothing left to see There's nothing left for you or me You chose this so go

You chose this so go You chose this so go