

On Wings Of Integrity

MyChildren MyBride

bitter thoughts test morals and encourage bitter action, pride comes before fall
think before you speak if you even speak at all.
speak at all.

ill relinquish your heavy hearts of pain and sorrow, healing su
tures
an unguarded queen pursues, oblivious of her future

i dont
i dont expect anything, we are all hopeless, but i stay confid ent
with willingness to take control, we'll make our time well spen t.

let it sink in,
every word that i said
let it sink in,
let in sink in,
every word that you heard me say conquering anything and everything thrown at us. we will not be torn, our hearts will stand, they will stand as one.

WE WILL SOAR!

my victory in sight, a steady heart will not, will not collide with misfortune, oh the integrity.
