

Natural Separation

Myka Relocate

You don't have to carry me, I won't turn away if I just stop fearing the words you say.

The past is out of reach (It eats at me)
And now I'm lost, stuck undertow

Give me your life, give me your take on this
I realize what makes me think like this

You left me out but what you don't know is
You are all to blame.

This dream is so perfect, but I know I'm not sleeping
You don't have to carry me, I won't turn away if I just stop fearing the words you say.
With the minds that run and the thoughts that change

I cannot test these waters
False lives reinforced by lies.

I will not rot on your time
This vow can see past the eye
I won't rot.

You don't have to carry me, I won't turn away if I just stop fearing the words you say
With the minds that run and the thoughts that change

You don't have to carry me, I won't turn away if I just stop fearing the words you've been saying to me
You say to me

No hate today, no love tomorrow
There will be nothing left.

I'm waiting patiently
I'm waiting patiently for your heart to encompass me
Waiting so patiently
(I am my own betrayal. I am alone)