

Something To Dream About

Myka Relocate

You push me so far from you,
Everything you've done versus everything we've been through.
I try to focus on what's ahead,
but every time I do I think of you instead.
So I'll give it up give it up this time.
I'll give it up till it all just fades away.
Give it up, give it up, this time.
Give it up, till it all just fades away.

So what makes it different this time?
I've been running in circles, no end in sight.
This will end tonight.
No more wasted time.
No more wasted time.

Now its time, now its time.
Swallow your lies. We're falling behind.
I hate this, you won't let me feel alive.
I'm so lost on what to say.
Cause I know that this choice is hard to face.
Give it up, give it up this time.
Give it up till it all just fades away.

So what makes it different this time?
I've been running in circles, no end in sight.
This will end tonight.
No more wasted time.
No more wasted time.

Go on and take this all into perspective.
Go on and take this all right now.
I won't try anymore, I won't drown.
You are the one thing I'll never live without,
I couldn't sleep at night until you gave me something to dream about.

I'll always fight for the hopes and dreams of the ones that I l ove.
Never losing sight. You are all that I have to make me feel abo ve.

So what makes it different this time?
I've been running in circles, no end in sight.
This will end tonight.
No more wasted time.
