

Serotonin

Mystery Jets

Meet me in the middle of the morning
When the crows fly highest in the sky
Couldn't you hear me calling
I was out looking for you all night
Oh, but I never found you
No matter how hard I tried to Oh no, I never found you
Sarah if only you knew

Serotonin, burning a hole into my heart
Felt like I was floating
But now I'm coming down off you Down off you so hard

Meet me at the bottom of the ocean
Feel its fingers tickling our skin you mix your magic potion
The old familiar feeling starts to kick in But now it's fading and I can't hear what you're saying
It feels like it's slipping through my fingers
It's fading and I can't hear what you're saying It feels like it's slipping, but

It's just the serotonin, it's burning a hole into my heart Felt like I was frozen, but now I'm coming up so hard Serotonin, well you're really tearing me apart Felt like i was frozen, yeah, but now I'm coming up so hard coming up so hard

Sera-serotonin
Sera-serotonin
And I'm coming up so hard
Sera-serotonin
Sera-serotonin
And I'm coming up so hard
so hard
so hard
Serotonin
