

After all this time
Giving up is such a crime
If you look beyond the lies
You'll be amazed, the truth you'll find

Feeling alone in a world of your own
With no place to hide
Still nobody knows
How the fire still burns in your eyes

After all this rain
Tears will never be the same
You find someone to blame
To take away some of your pain

Feeling alone in a world of your own
With no place to hide
Still nobody knows
How the fire still burns in your eyes

Trembling and scared with no future ahead
But don't worry now
For everyone knows the stars never fall from the sky

From the sky
From the sky

After all this time
Giving up is such a crime

After all the fame
Standing there center stage
The world is just a game
You've got to find just who you play

Feeling alone in a world of your own
With no place to hide
Still nobody knows
How the fire still burns in your eyes

Trembling and scared with no future ahead
But don't worry now
For everyone knows that the stars
Never fall from the sky

From the sky
From the sky
Stars never fall from the sky
