

Till The Truth Comes Out

Mystery

Time so quickly passed them by
Gone far away out of sight

As he starts to fear all the rage
Forming in his eyes
Still she stands there by his side
To keep the dream alive

Love deserts so many lives
And you ignore the tears they cry

She begins to doubt
All belief learned as a child
Still he stands there by her side
To keep the dream alive

The more you learn
The less you know
You think you understand
Until the truth is coming out

Fall from trees the graceful eyes
Die! Prophets and genius minds

And they start to understand
The game they play
What prayer they have to save
To keep the worst away

The more you learn
The less you know
You think you understand
Until the truth is coming out

The more we learn
The less we know
We think we understand
Until the truth is coming out

I feel it now
I feel it now
Can you feel it now?

I feel it now
I feel it now
